at the BunnyRanch as a limo driver.

According to Hof, one day Bobbit took two Ranch employees and two men to the Reno Hilton. Once the men had been dropped off, Bobbit informed the women that he was a union driver, which was not true, and that he wasn't going to drive until he got his hour break. He told the girls if they wanted to get back sooner than that, then they had to drive. Shortly after, the limo was pulled over by the police for doing 100 mph through the Washoe Valley. At the wheel was an 18-year-old BunnyRanch employee. In the back was Bobbit who was sound asleep.

Needless to say that was the end of his driving days. After that, Hof tried having Bobbit as a celebrity doorman dressed in a tuxedo.

"Every guy that walked through the door would say, 'Hey John, how's it hangin'?"

After a few months, Bobbit was done working at the Ranch.

I had a chance to ask Bobbit, "How did you go from a former Marine and factory worker, to a porn star?"

"Well, I had my penis cut off, then sown back on and made bigger, now it's like a bionic boner," Bobbit said.

One of the girls at the Ranch asked him every question one could think of. Let me quickly sum it up: It was off for two hours, found by hound dogs in a field where his wife had tossed it, and sown back on.

"Oh, it was only off for two hours?" she said.

"I would have freaked out if mine was gone for two seconds," I replied. Bobbit just stared at me.

The Birds and the Bees

So upon entering the Ranch, the women form a line in the main room in front of the customer. If the customer sees someone he likes immediately, he can ask her to go to a room. If not, he can sit at the bar and flirt with the ladies until one of them strikes a particular fancy.

Once he's found the lady, or ladies, of their choice, they go to a room to negotiate.

"I tell the girls, 'Don't do anything for any less money than you think it's worth,'" said Hof. "The reason being, some girls don't like to do certain things as much as others do."

The ladies are allowed to set their own price for any action, party, or amount of time they want. For parties, customers can rent out the VIP room, a room complete with a massage table, or a room that is essentially a giant shower with a special bed in the middle complete with two showerheads above it. That room is for clean parties. Get it?
