

Once the customers and the lady, or ladies, have reached an agreement, they go off to the specific room, or the lady's bedroom. In the room the men are inspected under a light to check for any visual sexually transmitted diseases. If everything looks to be on the up and up, pun intended, the men are taken down to the office where they pay up front. The women get half of the money, and the house takes the other half.

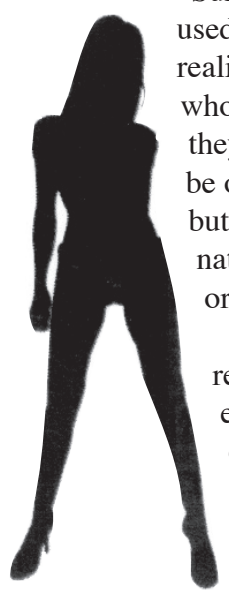

Once the money is squared away, it's off to the room ... If the customer paid by the time, a buzzer is sounded in the room when their time is up.

Customers can spend anywhere from $100, to $1,000, to many hundreds of thousands. The record is $1.7 million. This was a tab that was acquired by a man who spent more than 17 days at the ranch with eight to 10 ladies around him 24 hours a day.

The Climax

Before my trip to the BunnyRanch I thought, "Sure, this is safer; but the women are being used." After my trip to the BunnyRanch, I realized Dennis Hof has managed to find women who not only love men and other women, but they love sex. I'm sure a lot of people will be offended by this article and the ideas in it, but when it comes down to it, sex is a totally natural act, and everybody does it, or will do it, or really wants to do it.

Like Hof said, "There's no rhyme or reason to anyone's sexual desires." But, everyone has them, and if they have some crazy desires, or even normal desires that they're just not having any luck fulfilling out in the real world, they can come to the BunnyRanch.
