

Local man claims to be the No. 1 Busey fan in the world

By Daniel Savickas

When Jimmy Busher isn't spending time on his favorite Web site, www.buseyworld.com, he's either quoting a line from a Gary Busey movie or watching one.

"I love Busey, I love his teeth, I love that he's pretty much the greatest actor in the world," said Busher.

Many people in the area believe Busher is Busey's love child, and although the two look alike, Busey was not anywhere near Busher's mother nine months prior to young Jimmy's birth. But that doesn't stop Busher from being Busey's No. 1 fan.

"Busey is the greatest, no one even comes close to him on the big screen except his son Jake. Jake was the bomb in Fast Sofa, god that's a great movie."

As far as Gary's movie career goes, it doesn't get any better than Point Break for Busher.

"Angelo Pappas could be, no, he definitely is, the greatest character to grace the screens of modern cinema," said Busher.

"I'm currently writing a sequel to Point Break called Point Break II, Pappas Lives. In the sequel you find out that Bodhi really did paddle to New Zealand and once Pappas recovered from his bullet wounds he takes off to track Bodhi down. I just couldn't live with the way they played out Busey in that movie. If Johnny Utah hadn't been so into Tyler and he'd been more concerned with his job; he really should've been able to separate the two, he would've seen Roach coming out of the bathroom and Pappas wouldn't have gotten shot in the back.

Pappas never had a chance, he was watching Utah's back, but who was watching his? Johnny should've been watching it, that's who. Well things are changing in the sequel my friends, Utah's going to get his."

Busher begins quoting lines from Point Break, and I decide to 'vanish like a virgin on prom night.'
